This introductory course introduces students to the skills of counselling that are necessary to be effective in the counselling demands of ministry. The emphasis is on those skills that are required at a basic level of counselling and within a Christian anthropological framework. The significance of the management of the intimate human encounter in ministry to those who suffer is central in this course.

Janiene Wilson is a practising clinical psychologist and analytic psychotherapist. Her interest is in the convergence of psychology with theology and spirituality, and the unique pastoral dilemmas that the Church must now face and address.
