Janiene Wilson is a practising clinical psychologist and analytic psychotherapist. Her interest is in the convergence of psychology with theology and spirituality, and the unique pastoral dilemmas that the Church must now face and address.
This graduate course introduces students to various models of pastoral counselling that are integral to the process of ministry and encourages critical reflection upon this. Emphasis will be both on learning the function of basic counselling skills within the pastoral context and on theological reflection upon this form of pastoral activity.

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

1. Appraise, and critically reflect upon, the role of pastoral counselling skills in ministry
2. Distinguish between, and appraise, various pastoral counselling models
3. Interpret how various components of the pastoral counselling relationship apply to ministry
4. Exhibit basic listening and reflective skills
5. Apply an understanding of the ethics of the practice of pastoral counselling in ministry
6. Pastoral counselling and spiritual direction: similarities and differences
7. Theological perspectives on pastoral counselling
8. Ethics in counselling practice in the pastoral context

Sessions will be held:

9:30am – 4:00pm

On the following days:

21st January
4th – 5th March, 29th April
13th May
