Janiene Wilson is a practising clinical psychologist and analytic psychotherapist. Her interest is in the convergence of psychology with theology and spirituality, and the unique pastoral dilemmas that the Church must now face and address.
This graduate course examines conscience within the Christian tradition. It assists students to see its significance in moral development, moral decision making, and pastoral care.

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

1. Critically demonstrate a working model of conscience in the Church
2. Demonstrate an advanced understanding of the contribution of contemporary psychological theories to an understanding of the functioning of conscience
3. Critique contemporary pastoral practice of moral development
4. Apply this knowledge to enhance the understanding of moral decision making
5. Apply this knowledge to an enhanced understanding of the functioning of the conscience and moral decision making within the Christian tradition

1. Conscience within the Christian tradition, as manifested in Church writing and teaching
