In this course, Dr. Ken Brimaud examines a number of theologically revealing and spiritually rich episodes in the Gospel of John where Jesus meets and dialogues with a number of diverse personalities representing a broad cross-section of the society of his day, not dissimilar to that of our own times. These occasions expose the personality of Jesus and provide a concrete application of his teachings, instructive for the moral, pastoral, and spiritual formation, as well as for the guidance, of contemporary Christians confronted with the challenges of our modern world. It is the purpose of the course to bring these to light by examining the relevant narratives and the human dynamics involved in these encounters with Jesus.
